Q: What are some of your favorite hobbies and interests?

A: 1) Japan: I lived in Tokyo for twenty-one years, am bilingual in Japanese; much of my career was spent there and still travel back frequently
   2) History—a big interest in British/European history in particular
   3) Astronomy (largely unfulfilled!)
   4) Music (former DJ and club promoter, a looong time ago)

Q: What was the inspiration behind the book?

A: For the illustrations, memories of the woodlands of my youth, the old trees of Sutton Park

Q: What makes this book special to you? What important message do you feel it brings to young readers?

A: I loved working on this book as it combined my fascination of the natural world and the atmosphere of night, together with a sense of fun fantasy and wonder. It’s a creepy subject, but very fun.
Q: What was your favorite book growing up?

A: The Wind in the Willows by Kenneth Graham

Q: What is your favorite memory from childhood?

A: 1) Summer holidays in beautiful Cornwall with the family
    2) Exploring Sutton Park and cycling with my sketchbook around the country lanes outside my town

Q: Did you have any pets? If so, which one was your favorite?

A: My family had dogs and cats; I was always a “cat” person. Favorite was a black cat with a white bib, regarded by the family as “my cat” as I was the only one who he seemed to like, though actually my parents looked after him. I called him Napoleon,” but the rest of the family thought that was a silly name for a cat and just called him Blackie.

Q: What inspired you to illustrate and when did you know you would become an illustrator?

A: I’ve had a graphic as opposed to fine art approach to drawing since I was a child. I used to draw incessantly with a ballpoint pen, which grew into sketching from life regularly when I was thirteen. I began using crow-quill pen and India ink around then, greatly influenced by modern comic art and eighteenth-century graphic artists such as Rowlandson and Gillray. When I was around fifteen, I discovered the work of Golden Age illustrators (Rackham, Dulac, Heath Robinson, etc) and became determined to become (chiefly) an illustrator of children’s books.
